ELECTRIC DREAMS: QUEENSLAND'S RENEWABLE ENERGY FUTURE

SARAH ZELJKO | ENERGY QUEENSLAND | FRIDAY 4 OCTOBER 2024 | THE STAR, BRISBANE

Sarah Zeljko

Chair

Sarah Zeljko is Chair of Energy Queensland, Australia's largest, wholly government-owned electricity company, comprising Energex and Ergon Energy Network, Ergon Energy Retail and Yurika.

Energy Queensland is at the forefront of Queensland's energy transformation – energising Queensland communities. The company manages an integrated energy system, and is embracing renewable energy, to deliver Queenslanders safe, secure, affordable, and sustainable electricity.

Sarah has previously served as a Director on the Board of Powerlink and has held professional Non-Executive Director and governance Board roles over the past 15 years.

She is currently on the Board of Stockyard Beef, Unitywater and Intellidesign. In addition, Sarah sits on the not-for-profit Boards of Queensland Rugby Union and International River Foundation.

Sarah will discuss Energy Queensland's leading role in the energy transition, the innovations we should be embracing and how to ensure that everyone is on board.

With world-leading rates of rooftop solar, utility-scale batteries and 2.3 million customers connected to its electricity distribution networks, Energy Queensland is in the driver's seat. Sarah will share the roadmap to an intelligent grid that sets the Sunshine State up for success and lays the foundation for a more sustainable future.

Sarah is an admitted legal practitioner in the Queensland and NSW Supreme Courts and has held previous roles as General Counsel and Company Secretary for G8 Education, the Wiggins Island Coal Export Terminal and Cement Australia.
